EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Peter Kwon on 7/7/06.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 9, line 1 has been amended to read as follows –

A computer readable medium containing a computer programming of ... --

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 7-9 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 7 and 9 mirror each other in content of a method with claim 9 using means plus function language. Claim 7 recites establishing several specific databases in order to set shipping schedules and to plan the unloading, loading and storage of cargo in an efficient manner (useful, tangible results). None of the prior art teaches this full combination process, especially the setting of shipping schedules. Much of the prior art conforms to shipping schedules instead of setting them. Kawase and Asama (a foreign reference) track the location of containers, but fall well short of teaching the assigning and planning of the current invention. The MacDonald article (NPL reference) emphasizes using modern retrieval technology, but lack the detail to anticipate or teach the recited claim language. Young, Terayama et al. and Hubbard teach the handling of container by the means of shipping cranes, but once again this prior art falls short of being able to anticipate or teach the full combination of limitations recited in the current application. Claim 8 is dependent upon claim 7.

Art Unit: 3627

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
